STOLEN ALMS BOX RETURNED TO CHURCH

Thief Sends Along Note and Asks Forgiveness

SAYS HE IS EX-SOLDIER

Taken From St. Mary's Church—After Looting Box Abandons it at Electric Station in Washington.

A steel box, eight by twelve inches, for alms, stolen several days ago from St. Mary's Catholic Church, today found its way back to the edifice together with a note from the thief in which he asked to be forgiven for the theft, saying in the note that he was an ex-soldier and "down and out."

The writer of the note, who had carefully placed it in the opening at the top of the box for the deposit of coin stated that he would send the full amount stolen "When God put me in a position to pay my debts."

He also directs attention that upon an examination of the box in the church he discovered the screws were loose, and adds that the small screws, which he returns with the box, will not hold it.

In conclusion he says that he is sorry for the theft, adding that he will make good when it is least expected. He also adds that "His heart pains him for this terrible sin."

The box was wrapped in heavy brown paper and found several days ago at the electric railway station at Pennsylvania avenue and Twelfth streets. It had been left by the thief adjoining the cigar counter in the station, and it was found by Mr. Amos Cliff, proprietor. On the package was a card addressed to Rev. L. P. Kelly, St. Mary's Catholic Church, South Royal street.

Mr. Cliff, finding it was a package to be called for put it away and held it until last night when he turned it over to a member of St. Mary's Church who carried it to the rectory and turned it over to Rev. L. P. Kelly. Father Kelly was surprised at the return of the box which was only missed two days ago. The box was at the entrance of the church. How much coin it contained is not known.

TWO DIE FOR MURDER

Carolina Moonshiners Pay Penalty for Whisky Slaying

Raleigh, N. C., March 6.—Joe and Gardner Cain, Surry county moonshiners, were electrocuted at the State prison here yesterday morning for the murder of Riley Easter. This was the first double execution of white men to take place in this State. The brothers were baptized by a Methodist minister and both went to their deaths declaring they were ready to die, Joe being electrocuted first. Neither man showed the slightest emotion, both merely saying, "I am ready to meet my God."

Easter was killed when the Cains and Joe Bowles attacked his home because Joe Easter, a son, they claimed, had removed a whisky still belonging to them and reported them to the county authorities.

Governor Bickett recently commuted the sentence of Joe Bowles to twenty years' imprisonment.

WOMAN SUES SPIRITUALIST

A wooden Indian, wrapped in a glaring red blanket, was used by Miss E. Ehlert, a professional spiritualist, in Chicago as a medium through which the voice of spirits are tapped.

That there are persons who believe in such things was brought out in the suit of Miss Phyllis Israel, who claimed $400 damages because forty-one treatments given her by Miss Ehlert to cure her eyes had failed. Miss Israel testified that Miss Ehlert dipped her fingers in "miracle water" and placed them on her head, mumbling prayers to the statue of the Indian. Then she put powdered sugar on her eyes. These treatments lasted fifteen minutes and cost Miss Israel $1 each.

Judge La Buy awarded Miss Israel a judgment of $41, the total amount she paid the spiritualist.

COMMUNITY SERVICE

Homer Van Wie Now Head of Work in Southport, N. C., on Visit Here

Homer H. Van Wie, formerly in charge of the War Camp Community Service in Alexandria, is here on a short visit to friends.

Last November Mr. Van Wie went to Southport, N. C., and a few months ago he organized a community center in that town and he reports that it is a big success. Mr. Van Wie says that he has the hearty co-operation of all churches and organizations in the city in community work and feels highly satisfied with the spirit of cooperation prevailing in the North Carolina town.

MISSION FOR MEN

Will be Opened at St Mary's Catholic Church Tomorrow—to Last Week

A mission for men will be opened at the 11 o'clock mass at St. Mary's Catholic Church tomorrow and be continued throughout the week. It will be conducted by Rev. John Gipprich, S. J., and Rev. Patrick H. McHugh, S. J., both of the mission house, South Norwalk, Conn. The opening sermon will be preached by Rev. Father McHugh.

The services every evening will begin promptly at 7:45 o'clock and hours for the other services will be masse and short instruction at 5::30 a. m., 6:30 a. m., and 7:30 a. m., and 9 a. m.

The evening service will consist of sermon and benediction.

These priests during the week just closing have conducted a mission for women which has been highly successful, the attendance each night being large. The women's mission will end tonight.

LENTEN LECTURES

A prominent feature of the Lenten services in Christ Episcopal Church is the series of lectures on the four Gospels by the Rev. Dr. Wallace E. Rollins, of the Episcopal Theological Seminary of Virginia. The third of this series will be Wednesday, March 10, at 7:30 p. m., when Dr. Rollins will speak on St. Luke's Gospel.

A cordial invitation is extended to all to attend. A great deal of interest has been manifested in the former lectures and they are of especial benefit to Sunday School teachers and scholars.

No collection is taken at these services.

DREADNAUGHTS VICTORS

Down A. H. S. Team by Score of 32 to 28

Last evening the quints of the Dreadnaughts Athletic Club and the Alexandria High School met in a hard fought and well contested game. The High School lads put up a good game with the City champions but the free goal shooting of the Dreadnaughts was too much for them. The points as made by quarters are as follows: First quarter, Dreadnaughts, 8; A. H. S. 2: second quarter, Dreadnaughts, 7; A. H. S. 9; Third quarter, Dreadnaughts, 6; A. H. S. 7; fourth quarter, Dreadnaughts, 11; A. H. S. 10.

The field goals were equally shared both teams having made a total of 12. S. Dreifus starred for the High school boys and Beeton for the Dreadnaughts. The guarding of both teams was excellent.

The final score was Dreadnaughts 32; A. H. S. 28; time of quarters, 10 minutes. Referee Coach Metzler of Central High, Washington D. C.

BLIZZARD VISITS THIS VICINITY

Fifth Week of Ground Hog Weather Experienced

SNOW, HAIL AND WIND

Astrologer Tells us Conditions Last Night Are But the "Beginning of Sorrows" on this Mundane Sphere.

Notwithstanding the announcement yesterday of Prof. Frankenfield, the official forecaster of the Weather Bureau, to the effect that the blizzard prevailing in the west this week would not visit our section, something akin to such struck Alexandria and vicinity early yesterday afternoon and continued throughout the night. It was the severest storm which has visited this latitude during the present winter. Rain, snow and hail fell at times, while the northwest wind attained an alarming velocity. It blew 48 miles an hour, but some of the more heavy flaws must have exceeded that velocity.

The light snow which had fallen was whirled in clouds through the streets, rendering pedestrianism difficult and at times impossible, as numbers of persons compelled to be out were forced to stop and grasp awning posts and trees for the time being.

Conditions brought to mind other meteorological visitations, during the first week in March. Weather conditions March 4, 1872, when Grant was inaugurated President, will be remembered by many Alexandrians who visited Washington on that occasion. The captain of the steamer Lady of the Lake, then running on the Norfolk line, died from exposure on the night of the 3d of March while bringing the steamer to Washington.

March 4, 1909, the day William H Taft was inaugurated President, was another occassion long to be remembered. Conditions akin to those of last night prevailed on the night of the 3d

One or two trees were prostrated by the wind last night, but, so far as can be learned, no serious damage resulted to property. In Washington the storm was more destructive than in Alexandria. Trees were uprooted windows blown in and in some cases people were thrown from their feet by Old Boreas. Several accidents to persons who were struck by street cars or other vehicles were due to the wind and snow.

The Ides of March, 1920, will bring a period of tumult, turbulence, tribulation and terror such as this old Earth has seldom seen, predicts Dr. Frank T. Allen, director of the Astrological Research Bureau.

Through March and April, Allen says, this earth will experience the culmination of those astral forces which ever since the summer of 1914 have been chiefly responsible for individual, national and international upheavals that have turned the whole world topsy-turvy.

This, however, is to be the storm before calm. When it is past the influence of the celestial spheres, to the conflicting influences of which astrologers attribute the period of disturbance through which we are now passing, will be harmonizing and beneficent and the world will face an era of unprecedented, prosperity and peace.

LAST DAYS OF THE GENERAL ASSEMBLY

Committee to Probe Prohibition Department to Meet

BILL FOR THE COUNTY

Delegate Jesse, Its Sponsor, Anticipates No Further Trouble for Measure.

Richmond, March 6.—The senate yesterday afternoon passed the appropriation bill carrying $130,000 in excess of the figure in the house bill, already passed. A conference was made necessary when the house refused to concur.

It was announced the committee to probe the prohibition department will hold a session Monday night to hear from anyone who may care to be heard. Meanwhile the State accountant will be going over the departments books with a view of submitting a report Monday night.

Eliminating both the county engineer and county health officer and vesting full power and responsibility in the board of supervisors, the Alexandria county sanitary bill has been favorably reported to the committee and went on to the senate calendar yesterday. Delegate Jesse, its sponsor in the house, anticipates no further trouble.

Passage of a bill to provide a physician for the Virginia penitentiary is being urged by the state board of charities. A salary of $3,000 is provided for a full-time man. Dr. Herbert Mann, the present prison surgeon, draws $1,800 a year and only visits the penitentiary.

Amendments to the dog law passed by the house provide that licenses shall hereafter be paid to the State department of game and inland fisheries instead of to commissioners of the revenue and that persons bitten by rabid canines shall be compensated out of the tax fund.

Senator Trinkle, of Wytheville stated yesterday that he does not intend to push his State fund workmen's compensation bill in the Senate if he is successful in getting through the general assembly several mutual and interinsurers' bills which are calculated to bring down the cost of compensation cover.

"DIAMOND QUEEN" ENDS LIFE

New York, March 6.—Annett Bonner, who became widely known in 1914 as the "Queen of Diamonds," through having been charged, together with Joseph Kislinger, with swindling jewelers of Maiden Lane out of jewelry valued at thousands, defied the police to take her alive when they sought to arrest her yesterday on a fresh swindling charge. The "Queen of Diamonds" was in office of Kislinger, who also was included in the charge, when detectives tried to arrest her.

"You'll never take me alive," she exclaimed.

Her hand flashed from her hand bag to her mouth and she smiled defiantly as she swallowed a dose of poison. She died a little later in the Volunteer Hospital.

IN MEMORIAM

In sad but loving remembrance of my dear wife, mother and sister, Rosa D. Austin, who departed this life five years ago today, March 6, 1916, at 718 North Henry street.

Oh, for the touch of a vanished hand,
And the sound of a voice that is still,
A kind, loving and faithful wife.
A good ,true and christian wife
And kind to every one who knew her.
Out of my heart comes this bitter cry,
Why, oh, why, did my daughter die,
Then comes the answer, so solemn and sweet,
Your daughter is not dead, but only asleep.
I should not call you back, dear sister,
To a world of care and pain;
But my heart will cheer while being here,
With the hope we'll meet again,
Her husband, mother and sister.

UPPER POTOMAC RISES

Tributary Streams Out of Their Banks—Part of Martinsburg Flooded

Martinsburg, W. Va., March 6.—Several blocks in the residential sections of this city were inundated yesterday as the result of the Tuscarora, a tributary of the Potomac River, overflowing its banks, and scores of houses were flooded. Street traffic was blocked and much damage was done to property. Last night conditions were becoming worse.

Hagerstown, Md., March 6.—Following a thunderstorm and heavy rains Thursday night a big blizzard riding in on a cold wave struck Western Maryland yesterday and several inches of snow fell, driven by strong west winds, interrupting traffic. All streams are rising. Antietam Creek has overflowed at Funkstown, Keedysville, Conocheague Creek is out of banks above Williamsport. Potomac River at Hancock and Williamsport last night was rising with dangerous rapidity, and is expected to be overflowing by morning.

Hagerstown and Frederick Electric Railways' power house at Security was put out of commission by the floods.

THE PASSING OF PETERS

Neither the Prohibition Department nor the present commissioner was spared by those who advocated the ousting of Rev. J. Sidney Peters, Prohibition Commissioner, at the joint session of the Legislature Thursday.

Major E. H. Gibson, of Culpeper, was particularly denunciatory of the department, its chief officer and everything pertaining thereto.

Peters, he said, had appeared before the House Committee on Moral and Social Welfare and asked that a resolution introduced by Major Gibson, calling for a "showdown" on the part of the Prohibition Department, be not reported out. Peters, he said, admitted that he was unable to furnish certain information demanded by the resolution. His inability to furnish the data sought, coupled with his request to have the resolution killed in committee, was unfair, he said, to the committee, unfair to the House and unfair to Virginia.

Major Gibson did not believe the opinion of the Attorney General that the Prohibition Department was within its legal rights in employing outside counsel to defend its agents accused of crime, would hold water in any court of justice.

He did not overlook Bishop Cannon, to whom he referred as the boss of the House, Cannon, he said, was in Richmond to take Peters home, in the event of his defeat, and give him a job.

"For God's sake, he said, "don't again saddle the Prohibition Department with a man who cannot make a living at anything else."

If Smith were elected, he said, that would be the end of it. He wouldn't be back within two years asking to be re-elected. On the other hand, were Peters to be returned, "you will have the old brothers—the political parsons—back, buttonholing and communing with you."

He scored the Collector of Internal Revenue for alleged lobbying in the interest of Peters—"when he is paid to look after the business of the Federal government."

A preacher in politics is as despicable as a whisky man in politics, he said in conclusion.

A public officer, like Caesar's wife, should be above reproach or get out.

POWER OF SEARCH

While the General Assembly of Virginia has recently been considering a bill which provides for considerable legal procedure before a search warrant can be issued, notably in the applicant making affidavits, etc., and a severe penalty is prescribed against any official issuing such a process without the formality of considerable red tape, in Jersey City if in the dead of night a man dimly sees his wife prospecting in his trousers' pockets, he might just as well sigh gently and go on enjoying his sleep. "With all my worldly goods I thee endow," spoken at the altar by the bridegroom is no mere idle phrase as interpreted by Judge Leo Sullivan, as he proved this week in the First District Court but an actual endowment of the husband's goods and chattels—including the contents of his trousers' pockets.

Martin J. Feeney appeared in a non-support action, brought by his wife, who married him 30 years ago.

"She takes all my money away from me at night, Your Honor," wailed Feeney. "It's getitng so I don't dare sleep home," "You'd better sleep home," snapped the court. "Taking money from a husband's pockets, if he does not give her enough of his earnings to care for the home and something for herself too, is a wife's prerogative."

Feeney was ordered to hand his wife $80 of the $114 he earns monthly.

BISHOP W. F. ADAMS DIES

Ill But Short Time; Appeared at Services in Church Week Ago

Easton, Md., March 6.—The Rt. Rev. William Forbes Adams, D. D. LL. D., D. C. L., bishop of the diocese of Easton, died in his home here yesterday morning after a short illness of general debility, at the age of 87 years.

Bishop Adams' last appearance in the pulpit was when he blessed the banner and flag presented to Talbot Post, American Legion, at the memorial services in Christ Church Sunday a week ago, in memory of the Talbot county boys who died in the late world war.

Bishop Adams was born January 2, 1833, in Enniskillen.

BACK GIVES OUT

Plenty of Alexandria Readers Have This Experience.

You tax the kidneys—overwork them—

They can't keep up the continual strain.

The back may give out—it may ache and pain;

Urinary troubles may set in.

Don't wait longer—take Doan's Kidney Pills.

Alexandria people tell you how they act.

Mrs. Mary Williams, 914 Duke St. Alexandria, says: "About two years ago I was suffering terribly from kidney trouble. My back pained me so at times I could hardly get about. Nights, lying in bed, it seemed as though my back were broken. My kidneys acted much too freely and that broke my rest. Mornings I felt stiff and sore and could hardly get out of bed. I was completely run down. Doan's Kidney Pills soon gave me relief and after I had finished two boxes my kidneys acted naturally and the pains in my back were gone. I was entirely cured."

Price 60c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mrs. Williams had. Foster-Milburn Co., Mfgrs., Buffalo, N. Y.

VIRGINIA NEWS

A dispatch from Danville says Dillon Postom, a farmer of that city, is held for the grand jury on a charge of grand larceny as a result of his failure to restore to its rightful owner a purse containing $100. Postom held that the law was that he need not part with his find unless the owner divided the money in the purse. He was unconvinced until a policeman came along and took him into custody.

A concerted movement is on foot to put Richmond back on the daylight saving plan. A measure with that end in view is before the city council and the indications are that it will pass.

Colonel F. N. Bilisoly, State Commissioner of Game and Inland Fisheries, has advised A. B. Thornhill, president of the Farmers' Union, that the total found collected from dog licenses in Virginia in 1919 amounts to $256,770, which represents an increase of $178,775 over 1918.

John M. Hudsteth, 64, former superintendent of the Danville division of the Southern Railway, with headquarters in Richmond, died Thursday in Charlotte, N. C., where he went two years ago on account of his health.

James W. Sinton, vice president of the National State and City Bank of Richmond, and said to be the oldest official in point of service in Richmond, is dead. He was an elder in Grace Covenant Presbyterian Church. Mr. Sinton was for some years secretary of the Richmond Clearing House Association.

Henry Havron, 20 years of age, hailing from Meridian, Miss., will have to serve sixty days in jail for stealing jewelry from the home of the Rev. Fred R. Chenault of Broad Street Methodist Church, Richmond, after the latter had befriended him. The sentence was imposed yesterday by Justice Crutchfield. When the theft was committed Havron was just out of jail after serving a term for stealing a watch from the Rev. R. Cary Montague, Episcopal city missionary, who also befriended him. The youth has also been arrested for stealing overcoats from hallways.

Arrested last night upon a warrant sworn out by the Commonwealth's attorney, which charged them with the grand larceny of $15,000 from the Colonial State Bank of Newport News, Frank R. Bartlett, cashier of the bank, and R. D. Holloway, general manager of the Vassar Abbott Company, were later released when bonds were furnished in the sum of $15,000 each.

At the application of several citizens of Heathsville the Navy Department has agreed to provide several seaplanes to assist in the coming fishing season. The planes will be used to detect schools of fish, will they will work in cooperation with the fishing fleet.

Bricklayers of Danville yesterday joined union carpenters, plumbers, electricians, hodcarriers and plasterers in a strike to determine whether building operations shall be on an open or closed shop basis. Contractors have issued an ultimatium calling for a 10 hour working day and the open shop.

Will Harris, a young Stafford colored man, was accidentally shot and instantly killed by his brother, Herbert Harris, near their home, Widewater, in Stafford county, Thursday. The men were out shooting together, when in some manner Herbert Harris' gun was accidentally discharged.

KEPT HER AWAKE

The Terrible Pains in Back and Sides Cardui Gave Relief

Marksville, La.—Mrs. Alice Johnson of this place writes: "For one year I suffered with an awful misery in my back and sides. My left side was hurting me all the time. The misery was something awful.

I could not do anything, not even sleep at night. It kept me awake most of the night. I took different medicines, but nothing did me any good or relieved me until I took Cardui.

I was not able to do any of my work for one year and I got worse all the time, was confined to my bed off and on. I got so bad with my back that when I stooped down I was not able to straighten up again. I decided I would try Cardui. By time I had taken the entire bottle I was feeling pretty good and could straight en up and my pains were nearly all gone.

I shal lalways praise Cardui. I continued taking it until I was strong and well." If you suffer from pains due to female complaints, Cardui may women who once suffered in this way now praise Cardui for their present be just what you need. Thousands of good health. Give it a trial.

FLOUR TO AID EUROPE

Julius H. Barnes Tells Committee Surplus Will be Sent Over

Washington, March 6.—Julius H. Barnes told the House Rules Committee yesterday that whether or not Congress acts favorably on the proposed loan of $50,000,000 to the starving people of Europe that the United States Grain Corporation, of which he is chairman, will send five million barrels of flour to the stricken nations.

The Grain Corporation has found it cannot sell the flour in this country, according to Mr. Barnes, and it will be shipped to these countries and sold on credit if Congress does not act to permit sales for cash. The flour, which is of the soft grain variety, could not be sold to American consumers in spite of an extensive advertising campaign, he said.

The flour now held by the Grain Corporation must be moved within the next four or five months and some of it should be moved tomorrow, according to Mr. Barnes, to prevent its spoiling on their hands.

"And before I see 5,000,000 barrels of flour spoil in this country and knowing of the terrible conditions abroad, I will proceed to dispose of it on credit to those governments," he said.

FORBIDS RAISE IN PRICE

Department of Justice Board Rejects Plea of Washington Bakers

Washington, March 6.—Bread prices will not be increased. This decision was made yesterday by the advisory board of the Department of Justice's anti-high price campaign, of which special Assistant Attorney General Howard E. Figg is chairman, on requests by Washington master bakers for an increase.

The action of the board was unanimous, but it consented to reopen the case on May 1 when demands for an increase in salary by journey men bakers are expected to provide additional reasons for a higher priced loaf.

Decision of the board to refuse the increase was based on the ground that the ingredients entering into the manufacture of bread are now on a declining market. It was deemed inadvisable to grant an increase merely because many of the bakers had purchased large quantities of flour at higher prices just before the market began to descend.

Evidence was submitted to show that some of the bakers now are operating at a loss and others barely making expenses, but the master bakers consented to the edict of the advisory board to retain the present prices until May 1.

The increase asked by the bakers at Wednesday's meeting was from 7 to 8 1-2 cents a loaf, which would have caused the public to pay 10 cents. The size of the loaf also was to be increased from 12 to 14 ounces under the terms of the bakers' request.

SHOOTINGS AND HOLD-UPS

Captain is Fired at and Man is Found in Coffin With Bullet in his Head

Dublin, March 66.—A series of sensational happenings followed the bold daylight hold up yesterday of mail van in Dominic street by twelve armed and masked men who seized the Viceroy's correspondence and escaped.

From Queens town comes word that a large body of infantry and police surrounded the Rushbrooke Docks, held up 300 workmen, and searched each thoroughly, with the object of tracing some stolen rifles.

Near Athenry, Captain Shaw Taylor, a wealthy landowner and magistrate, was shot at. Several previous attempts have been made to assassinate him.

At Ennistymon, a coffin containing a man's body was found in a bog. The man was shot dead through the head, presumably in a clash with a police patrol.

DAUGHTER GETS $2,000,000

Court Decides That Widow of Pittsburgh Millionaire Steel Manufacturer Was of Unsound Mind

New York, March 6.—Mrs. Rosa F. Spang, widow of a millionaire Pittsburgh steel manufacturer, was of unsound mind when she signed her will leaving the bulk of her two million dollar estate to charity and giving her only child, Mrs. Mabel Spang, Ancker, of Copenhagen, Denmark, an annuity of but $10,000, according to a verdict rendered by a jury in Surrogate's Court. The verdict rendered the will void. The jury deliberated more than twelve hours.

Mrs. Ancker brought suit to break the will, contending that her mother was of unsound mind when the will was drawn up and signed.

KILLED ENTIRE FAMILY

Only Survivor, 13 Year Old Girl, Was Eyewitness of the Tragedy

Jackson, Miss., March 6.—Escorted by detachments of the Mississippi National Guard from Vicksburg and Port Gibson, Charles Marshall, alleged slayer of four members of the Miller family at Amory several weeks ago, left here Thursday night for Aberdeen, where he will be placed on trial.

Marshall, it is alleged, killed Robert Miller, his son, a daughter, and an infant, said to be the son of the defendant, while the daughter was the mother. Pearl May Miller, 13, only member of the family who escaped, claims to have witnesses the tragedy from the loft of the house, where she had taken refuge when Marshall entered the home.

BANK MANAGERS ADVICE

Baltimore, March 6.—"Take my advice and don't get married on $125 a month."

This is the advice given by M. M. Prentis, manager of the Baltimore branch of the Federal Reserve Bank of Richmond, when asked if Baltimore employes of the Reserve bank are to fare like their Chicago brethren.

C. R. McKay, vice-governor of the Chicago Reserve Bank, is said to have issued an imperative ruling against the marriage of any of his clerks who receive $125 or less without first taking the matter up with the chief clerk. This ruling had some of the bachelor clerks in the Baltimore branch guessing. They wanted to know whether a blanket order was coming from Washington to keep all $125 clerks in bachelorhood.

Mr. Prentis, when shown the article which appeared in the afternoon papers yesterday, burst into hearty laughter.

"Why, that's Charles McKay," he said.

"There is nothing like this affecting our office." "If, he continued "anybody is foolish enough to get married on $125 a month, it's his business."

TAMMANY HAILS EDWARDS

New Jersey Governor Declares Prohibition Issue, Like Banquo's Ghost Will Not Down

New York, March 6.—Governor Edwards, of New Jersey, who has declared war on the Federal prohibition amendment, was acclaimed last night as the "next President of the United States" by members of the Tammany Osceola Club, whom he addressed on the "liquor question."

In his speech to the Tammanyites, Governor Edwards said: "It is a pity that the liquor issue is to remain in politics." That result, he added, had been actually determined by the eighteenth amendment, and the Volstead act, "the biggest fool bill ever passed by Congress."

"The issue will be presented every two years," he continued, "and every candidate for Congress will be compelled to make known his interpretation of the law. Some persons would have us believe that the so-called dignity of the great political parties make it inadvisable for either of said parties to include in its platform any reference whatsoever to what is commonly known as the 'liquor question.'

"Notwithstanding the opinion of Mr. Bryan and the Anti-Saloon League it is my conviction that the Democratic party will listen to the people, and will include in its platform a provision covering the right of personal liberty and self-determination and assume full and proper protection against further tampering with the Constitution.

SHOES CAUSE DIVORCE

Husband Objects to Wife's Purchase and Separation Ensues—Decree is Granted

Baltimore, March 6.—An argument that started over the pair of shoes she had bought led to the separation of Mrs. Anna Emma Snyder and her husband, Clarence Morgan Snyder, according to her testimony in circuit court yesterday. She was granted an absolute divorce.

Mrs. Snyder lives at Woodlawn, Birch Pavilion, N. Y. She was married October 1, 1914, in Alexandria, Va., and lived with her husband, eighteen months.

SERVICE Ford SERVICE

Mr. W. G. Woodbury Has Returned from Ford Factory

Our object in sending Mr. Woodbury to take advantage of the Ford Motor Company's liberal offer of a special class of instructions, has been realized. First, Mr. Woodbury proved to our satisfaction that he was the right man to send. Next, we are anxious to give our customers the best service that it is possible to give, so to do this Mr. Ford realizes that the knowledge gotten from repair shops is not sufficient to give the Ford owner what he is entitled to. So he is giving the Ford dealer the advantage of sending his foreman to get this knowledge from a corps of competent instructors.

OUR MOTTO: If It Was Done At Remschel's It Must Be Done Right!

A few words from Mr. Woodbury:

"Before going to the Ford factory, I was confident that I knew the Ford car, but I feel the system taught me by the competent corps of instructors which Mr. Ford has in charge of his classes, will enable me to render far more efficient service to our customers. Bring your car to me and let me prove that I do know my business."

THE FORD SERVICE COURSE EXAMINATION—NO. 4.

Name Walter G. Woodbury Badge No. B—658. Date February 27th, 1920.

1—Name the assemblies the chassis is divided into. Name the systems the chassis is divided into.

A—The assemblies are (1) front construction; (2) rear construction; (3) motor assembly; (4) deck assembly.

B—The systems are (1) ignition; (2) fuel; (3) lubrication; (4) cooling and starting and lighting.

2—What kind of brakes have we on the Ford car and how are they adjusted?

(1) We have two kinds of brakes. The service brake is caused by external contraction by band on drum. This is adjusted by removing sloping door and tightening or loosing nut. (2) The emergency brake is on the rear wheels. This is of internal expansion type. This brake is adjusted by lengthening or shortening pull rod, by means of screwing prong end on or off.

3—What care should the springs have?

The springs should be lubricated at all times. Do not let rust accumulate. Keep bushings in A No. 1 condition. It is best to use a graphite grease for greasing them. Keep the bolts in line and tight. Keep springs at even angle on both sides to hold front level. See that leather washers are under them

4—Explain the use of the torque tube and rods.

(1) The torque tube is to keep the drive shaft in line with the rear assembly. It is used as a guide and support between the motor and differential. It relieves the strain on the drive shaft. In this is the place for the supports and bearings. (2) The torque rods are to keep the drive shaft tube at right angles with the differential assembly.

5—What is the clearance of play between the worm and gear?

The clearance can be from .015 to .030.

6—How many gears in the steering assembly? How many teeth in each gear?

There are five gears in the assembly. The triple gears or pinions have 12 teeth each. The short steering post gear has 12 teeth. The ring gear or housing gear has 36 teeth.

7—Name the heat treated parts in the steering assembly.

The following are heat treated: the steering arm, ball end; the ball connection on torque rod; the key, the end of the steering rod and key seat; the thrust plate; bearing surfaces on steering rod.

8—Why should the steering apparatus have more care than any other part of the car?

The steering gear should have more attention because of the control it has of the car. When riding at any rate of speed you are subject to dangers in accordance with the weakness or perfection of your steering.

9—Explain action of gears in low speed?

The low speed drive is held stationary, also the 21 tooth gear riveted onto the drum. This 21 tooth gear is in mesh with the 33 tooth gear on triple gear. The 27 tooth triple gear is riveted to this 33 tooth gear and in mesh with the 27 tooth gear on brake drum sleeve. When the fly wheel is in motion and car is in neutral, the triple gears are revolving around the 27 tooth driven gear and the drum gears are traveling at same speed. When the band is clamped on the low speed drum, the drum is held still. Everytime the 33 tooth wear goes around this 21 tooth gear, it has 12 teeth to go, so these teeth are lost. Also the 27 tooth gear, riveted on to it, will lose 12 teeth. This bringing it in mesh with the 27 tooth driven gears causes it to turn 12 teeth around. The flywheel revolves 2 3-4 times to the driven gear's one or driven gear 12-33 to one revolution of the flywheel.

10—Trace the path of power in high speed.

From crankshaft to flywheel; to transmission shaft (being bolted to flywheel); to small disc drum; to small disc; to large disc; to large disc drum or brake drum; to drive plate; to drive plate sleeve; to universal joint; to drive shaft differential; to axle shafts, keys and wheels.

11.—What type of engine have we in the Ford car?

We have four-cylinder, 4 cycle, L head; gasoline; internal combustion motor.

12—Give the rule for timing the values of a Ford engine.

The space between push rods and valve stem is .022", .032". The exhaust valve should close upon dead center or 5-16" from top of piston to case. The exhaust opens 3 3-8 below bottom center. The intake opens 1-16" past upper center or 1-4" from top of piston to case. The intake closes 3 3-8" from piston to top of case or 3-8" past bottom center.

13—What gap is absolutely necessary between push rods and value to have an efficient engine?

The space or gap is .022-.032 between pushrods and valve stem.

14.—How can you determine the proper fitting of new wrist pins?

By holding the piston in hand with connecting rod installed. Place pushrod perpendicular to piston, then allow it to fall to the side by leaving the piston. It should fall slowly by its own weight. There should not be more than .002 clearance. Place a new wrist pin in a piston. It should go in freely. Turn with a little pressure, but should resist a bit when removing under pressure of finger.

15—Why do we advance or retard the spark?

In order to get a combustion when the piston is as near to top center as possible. Owing to time it takes for gas to burn in high speed it is necessary that it fire sooner than at low speed.

16—What are the advantages of the thermo-siphon system of cooling?

It reduces mechanical disadvantages, such as pumps, etc. The water is heated to proper degree for carburetion very quick. The water doesn't circulate until the motor is heated to a certain degree.

17—On what does the efficiency cooling of a radiator depend?

The amount of radiating surfaces the amount of water it contains; the thinness of the material of which it is made. The path of circulation must be large enough to allow the proper water travel. Keep foreign matter outside.

18.—What are the principal parts of the Holley carbureator?

The mixing chamber; the gas bowl; spray nozzle; strangling tubes; low speed tube; intake middle valve and needle seat; the adjusting needle valve and valve seat; the float.

19—Why is a strangling tube necessary?

This is necessary to cause the gas that comes from the thin spray nozzle to vaporize.

20—What is the purpose of the low speed tube?

The low speed tube is used to supply the motor with a proper mixture to run at low speed or idle the motor.

21—How are the magnets placed on the flywheel in relation to each other?

With like poles together. When right they will not stick together.

22—What is high tension current, low tension current, voltage, amperage.

High tension is high voltage; low tension is low voltage; voltage is pressure or power of electricity; the amperage is the volume of the flow of electricity.

23—Trace the patch of the secondary current.

The secondary gets its current from magnetic field built around an iron core. From the magnetic field to coil; coil to spark plug; from upper ground to commutator roller, cam shaft and back to coil terminal.

24—What are the five conditions necessary for an engine to start and run?

Proper ignition; carbureton; the time or firing order; combustion; oil and gas.

25—Why is the necessary coil grounded to the primary coil on the inside of the coil box?

This is for convenience. It has no effect or connecton through this ground. It would be as well if grounded some other place.

Gentlemen:—

We take pleasure in enclosing "The Ford Service Course Record" made by your Mr. W. G. Woodbury while attending the course at our factory, covering the month of February.

We are pleased to note that the marks made by Mr. Woodbury in the various departments of the course were creditable and we have no doubt that he has returned to your business full of enthusiasm over Ford methods and greatly benefited by the knowledge obtained, which experience should be reflected in your service work and make you feel that the expense involved was more than justified and that your selection of Mr. Woodbury was most wise.

Please convey to Mr. Woodbury our thanks for the interest displayed while taking the course.

THEATRES

GRAND THEATRE

More than a generation ago "M'liss" was a reigning stage success, dramatized by Clay Greene, a distinguished playwright who recently was stricken with pneumonia in California. In the stage version there was a combination of several of the Harte western stories and the most famous characters of these will be seen in "M'liss," the latest photoplay of the days of '49, starring Mary Pickford.

The new Pickford vehicle, picturized by Frances Marion and directed by Marshall Neilan, has just been released by Artcraft pictures. It contains all the elements of the western thriller, including the ineffable charm which "Our Mary" brings to the screen, unusually splendid support and high artistic directing.

"M'liss" is a delightful feature play, which will be no less successful in its appeal to the public as have been all of Miss Pickford's recent picture successes. The photoplay will be seen at the Grand Theatre tonight. Also Mutt-Jeff Cartoon.

RICHMOND THEATRE

In nothing that he ever did on stage or screen has William Farnum given a more convincing demonstration of his versatility, than he gives in "Heart Strings," the Fox production which will be seen for the last time tonight at the Ingomar Theatre.

The public, most familiar with Farnum as the robust, daring, fighting hero, here has him presented as a musical genius—not only a composer, but a wonderful master of the violin.

Here is a contrast as striking as it is effective, woven into a story of marvellous heart interest, yet thrilling throughout with the force of big dramatic moments. Mr. Farnum's performance is one of exquisite finish and tender appeal.

INGOMAR THEATRE

"Chains of Evidence," Dallas M. Fitzgerald's first production on Hallmark's Famous Directors series, will be seen at the Ingomar Theatre tonight. In the cast are seen Edmund Breese, Anna Lehr and Marie Shotwell, supported by Wallace Ray, Joseph Granby, James F. Cullen, Geo. Cooper, Edward Elkus, Peggy Elkus, Peggy Worth and Glenn Kunkel.

"Chains of Evidence," is a powerful mystery drama recounting the "come back" of a young man falsely accused of crime, whose rehabilitation is brought about by a young girl whose father, a Supreme Court judge had been the one who had sentenced the young man to a prison term.

HANGS BY NECKTIE

New Yorker Finds Body of Wife Dangling From Rafter

New York, March 6.—Using one of her husband's neckties, Mrs. Anna McMullin of 2712 South Seventeenth street, committed suicide yesterday in the cellar of her home. Her body, hanging from a rafter in the cellar, was cut down by the husband, James McMullin.

When McMullin returned to his home yesterday morning he found no trace of his wife. None of their 3 small children knew where she was and he started to search.

In the cellar he discovered her hanging body. She had taken one of his strongest neckties and had ended her life by hanging herself from a rafter. According to McMullin his wife had been despondent because of her own illness and the recent severe illness of one of their children.

(Ki-Ro-Prak-Tic)
Citizens of Alexandria and vicinity please note that I have opened an office in ROOM 9—SMITH BUILDING
624 King Street
for the practice of my profession Having practiced several years in the State of Virginia and being a graduate of the Fountain Head, Palmer School, I feel warranted in stating that you need no longer go to Washington for Chiropractic adjustments. Owing to an already large practice away from the city, I shall be absent after 3.15 p. m. every Monday, Wednesday and Friday for an indefinite period.
Regular Office Hours:
10 to 1 and 3 to 6 p. m.
Saturdays 10 to 2 or by appointment.
